Soldier Letter.

May 23, 1919.

Mr. Ervin Hartung,
Devine, Texas.

Dear Cousin:

I received your kind letter and was glad to hear from you again. How are you all getting along? I hope fine like myself. And how is everything in Medina County? I hope fine and dandy like here in France.

Well Ervin I received your picture and am glad to get it. You look like a man now. I haven't seen you in almost a year. Say Ervin I received a letter from Mary and Bertha and Joe Schott last night. Mary wrote me a long and interesting letter. She told me all about the crops, and also said that they attended a dance at Biry. I sure wish I could have been there. I am about 6,000 miles from Hondo, Medina County, Texas, so you see that I am a long ways from home.

Well Ervin I am working in the kitchen here for the Q. M. I. This is a fine Company and the boys are good to each other. It is the best Company that I have ever been in. The officers are good to the privates.

Well Irvin I hope to be home again soon and see all the people in Medina County. No Irvin I haven't any kick about the army, it is just as good as home, only you have to do what they tell you. Well Irvin I will close for this time. Hope to be home soon. Best wishes to you all and all the Medina County people.

Your Cousin,
JOE A. BREITEN.

Weynand-Batot.

A beautiful church wedding was solemnized at St. John's Church Wednesday morning when Miss Meta R. Batot became the bride of Mr. August E. Weynand. The bridal party was attended by Mr. Robt. Weynand and Miss Etta Batot, and Mr. Hugo Batot and Miss Hildegard Lamm of San Antonio. After a few appropriate words by Rev. Francis Pallanche, they pronounced the solemn words uniting them in holy matrimony. High Mass followed during which the newly wedded couple received Holy Communion. The choir, under the direction of Miss Corinne Ney, rendered appropriate music for the occasion.

The bride, the comely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Batot, was reared in this vicinity and is esteemed and admired by a host of live-long friends for her many womanly graces.

The groom is one of the leading young business men of this section, has established a high reputation for business probity and correct living, and no one in this vicinity enjoys a greater number of warm personal friends and admirers than he.

The happy young couple left on the evening train for points east on a brief bridal tour, after which they will return and make their home in Hondo.

That their fondest anticipations of a long, joyous and prosperous married life may be more than realized is the ardent wish of a host of friends among whom the Anvil Herald begs to be numbered.

Invest Interest in War Savings Stamps.

"I am very anxious indeed that all the citizens of this city exchange their Liberty Loan interest coupons, which were due on June 15th for War Savings and Thrift Stamps," said Mr. M. A. Chancey, Postmaster, today.

"I made this same request in May and a number of our people availed themselves of this opportunity but I am anxious that more do so at this time and I sincerely urge all the patrons of this office to do invest."

"It is very essential," continued Mr. Chancey "that our people get the habit of saving and investing and this is a very splendid way in which this can be accomplished. I certainly hope that every interest coupon in this town will be invested in War Savings and Thrift Stamps and I will be waiting at the postoffice to serve you."

Large Confirmation Class.

Rt. Rev. A. Drossaerts, Bishop of San Antonio, confirmed 46 persons at St. John's Catholic Church after High Mass, on Sunday morning.

Owing to a serious indisposition, the Bishop made only a short address, announcing that he would return in the fall.

The services at the Mexican Church were cancelled.

Bishop Drossaerts returned home on Tuesday evening accompanied by Rev. J. Michel O. M. I. of San Antonio Theological Seminary.

The New "All Purpose" Cream At WINDROW'S

It has at last been found possible to combine within one cream the desirable and valuable properties of the older types of cream (both "vanishing" and "greasy") and to avoid such of their disadvantages as have been noted among incorrectly compounded products. This new preparation is Garden Court Double Combination Cream.

As its name suggests, it is practically an all-purpose cream, adapted not only to the uses of the earlier "vanishing" and "grease" creams, but equally valuable for massage and cleansing purposes.

The regular use of Garden Court Double Combination Cream imparts a remarkable freshness to the complexion.

Applied before exposure to the winds and dust of out-of-doors, it protects against roughness and chapping. As a foundation cream (before applying face powder) it cannot be excelled, giving depth and evenness to the complexion. It is quickly taken up by the skin, yet it is softening, nourishing and healing.

The breath of thirty-two rare flowers, blended as in the Garden Court perfume, makes its use a distinct pleasure. One jar of Garden Court Double Combination Cream will win your lasting preference, and it is to be had for fifty cents the package at

PEACE BRIDES IN THEIR GAY GOWNS

End of War Has Released Girls From Somberness of the Recent Weddings.

PAGEANTRY IS NOW FEATURE

Medieval Fashions Are Generously Copied as Well as Those of the First Empire and Di-rectoire.

New York.—Peace brides will have more splendid weddings than war brides. There will be less of tragedy attached to them; less of nervous emotionalism, and probably less of haste in selection, observes a leading fashion writer.

There was much to be said against the epidemic of war weddings; but the public remained quiet because the world loves a lover, and loves even better a fighter, and with the two combined the rush of super-emotion which filled America since April, 1917, tolerated much that was done in the name of love and war.

Sumptuous weddings were taboo in war. Marriages took place, in the simple meaning of the term. To a large majority of minds there is an acute difference between a marriage and a wedding, and this difference has been sharply impressed upon the public mind during the last twenty months.

These war brides are getting a glimpse of what a wedding may be through the new trousseaus that are ordered for the belated honeymoons, and the peace bride is swinging into the full regalia of a splendid wedding, now that the trumpet has ceased to call for the man to go and the whistles blow to show that the man has come home.

The world is again turned topsy-turvy, and all our conditions and emotions, our mannerisms and expenditures turn an even somersault with it.
It is thus that the world is kept from losing its balance. When we all turn together we do not feel abnormal.

Eighteenth Century Pageantry.

In the centuries that have gone before this one, weddings were spectacles, differing in degree between royalty and peasantry, between the landed millionaire and the salaried worker.
A revolt against the spectacular side of a wedding controlled a majority of people on this continent for several years before the war, but the present hour seems a fit time for sumptuousness; it is an expression of the riotous gayety in every heart.

Peace brides have been quick to catch this feeling in the air, and weddings are planned for the early spring that might almost be termed pageants.
It is youth getting its revenge. Debutantes have not been allowed to make their bow to society for two years.
Youngsters have been thrust into the furnace of war-work here and on the battlefields, learning more of the tragedy of the world in twelve months than they might have learned in a lifetime during other epochs. Now youth must have its fling, for it is the quickest to rebound from tragedy. The old and cade ribbon form the sash.

the middle-aged feel that youth has had a ghastly experience during the last four years; that it has been deprived of its birthright; that it has been fettered in the dungeons of grief.
Now that it has been released into the sunshine, its debut into happiness must be attended by a fanfare of trumpets, a throwing of garlands, and a brilliancy that the old have foresworn.

All this traditional impulse toward gayety will reach its highest peak in the spring weddings. Since the day the armistice was signed the mating of young people has taken on brilliancy.
Churches are thrown open to crowds of guests, bridesmaids are chosen as though one were indulging in a new and riotous extravagance. It is as Eyes Had to Be Blue.

Blue-eyed babies always claim a preponderance of admirers. The fact has just again been emphasized—this time at Hampstead, England. It was announced in the press that the town officials had a "bonny blue-eyed baby" for adoption, and straightway 350 would-be adopters wrote to secure it.
Unfortunately it was found that the infant's eyes had been wrongly described. The eyes were not blue, after all, and when they heard of this some of the ladies withdrew their offers.

The Fragrant Weed.

The use of tobacco was first discovered in America when Columbus, in 1492, sent his first party to explore the island of Cuba. It was first observed that these herbs were burned and carried by the natives to perfume themselves. It was later discovered that these herbs were also used for chewing, and later as America was opened up and explored, it was observed that they were smoked in large quantities.

Balsam Gum.

The gum of the balsam fir, Abies balsamea, is known commercially as Canada balsam, and is largely used in the manufacture of optical instruments and in various other ways about scientific laboratories. There is a constant market for it, the price varying with the quality and the supply. Some time ago a fair quality was worth 20 cents per pound.

Uncle Sam's Islands.

The island of Tutuila and other small Samoan islands came into the possession of the United States in January, 1900. This island has an area of about fifty-four square miles, with a population of 3,800. Mauna and the other islets have a united area of about twenty-five square miles, with about 2,000 inhabitants. Pago Pago is the only good harbor.

The U. S. Senate will discuss the league of nations and the peace treaty this week.

a serious mistake to return ans for a better system of control of railroads are as follows: The plans for banking the reform when Congress has a mandate from the people to insure against financial crisis. The public now demands insurance against a breakdown of railroad transportation, and the new Congress is undertaking this work as secondarily to insurance against inflation. Congress solved the problem seven years ago in a partisan issue, in which all had a common interest, and evidently is tackling the problem with the same spirit.

The many plans that have been proposed differ in the methods used in reaching the desired end. It has been pointed out by Senators of Iowa, that all these plans really have much in common, so that he is confident they will have little difficulty in passing a bill that will meet with approval, and that will take up the question out of politics for years to come.

Plans with One Aim.

Senator has a commanding majority in this Congress because he is a member of the Interstate Commerce Committee of the United Senate, and it is in this committee that the new railroad bill will be passed. In an address before a meeting of business men Senator Cummins stated that the close of the war, fully complete plans for new railroad had been submitted to him

officials and owners, Government, railroad workers and citizens.

vigorous opposition in many of the railroad executives, who are supposed to take kindly to a Government guarantee stated they do not want it, because it is un-American in principle, and it lessens efficiency, and it gives the roads in a Government ownership that would inevita-

THE MEETING

By JULIA A. ROBINSON.

Her soldier boy was coming home and Nita dreaded the meeting. Of course she would have to see him and he would find out her deception. What would he think of her? How could she bear that he should look at her?
It had all begun at the girls' Red Cross meeting. "Let's pin our names and addresses on the inside of these socks we are knitting," suggested May Bond. "Perhaps the soldiers who get them will write to us."

"Good!" cried the other girls.
"Wouldn't it be fun to get a letter from a soldier?"

Each girl as she finished a pair of socks pinned her name on the inside and they were sent out. After a time letters began to arrive from the boys at the front, telling of war experiences and of army life. The girls read them aloud with many comments and much interest.

Nita, in a spirit of fun, had pretended in her letter that she was somebody's maiden aunt, and wrote in a motherly strain. She had hardly expected her soldier to write more than once, but he did. Her letters were filled with good advice and suggestions for his health and comfort, and he seemed to like them.

"There won't be any romance for me out of these letters," Nita laughed.
"He thinks I'm an old maid. I don't believe he'll want to see me when he comes home, and I'm sure I wouldn't want him to. I wonder if he wishes I were a girl," she added to herself. "I'm glad he doesn't know."

Now the war was over and the boys were coming home. Nita's soldier had written that he should be among the first to return. He was longing to see her, to tell her how much good her letters, her advice and her wise counsel had done him. He knew she had a kind, motherly heart and sympathetic eyes—were they blue?—a dear mouth that smiled and helpful hands.
He had so much enjoyed the socks and sweaters she had sent. They were just what his mother would have sent him had she been living. He was really longing to see her. Was her hair done in white puffs over her forehead? He loved to think of it so. He lived in Norton, not very many miles from her own home, and he should come to see her often. He hoped she would still be glad to "mother him" and to admonish him if he needed it.

Nita was frightened when she read that letter. She could not escape meeting him, for he had her address.
What would he think of her? If she could only run away and hide! And yet she did want to see him. She had learned to like her soldier boy. She had pictured him in her mind, and she wanted—oh, how much she wanted to see him—if only she could herself be invisible. She almost wished now that she had not played her foolish joke.
He would despise her for her deceit and think her very silly.

With a beating heart Nita watched the returning regiment march through the streets. Which one was her soldier boy? He was with them, she knew. They were so straight, with strong, brave faces, and the happy light of victory in their eyes. She was proud of them all and cheered with them.

When the doorbell rang Nita stepped lightly to answer it, quite unsuspecting. She had not thought that he would come to see her so soon. There were others to greet him—yet there he stood. She knew him at the first glance and wanted to hide. What could she say? How explain? She stared and said nothing.

He put out his hand with a boyish smile and a twinkle in his eye. "Is this Miss Spence?" he asked.

"I'm—I'm—Nita Spence—" came the timid answer. Perhaps he would think the one who wrote the letters was her aunt. If he would only go away.

"My maiden aunt, my mentor," he laughed merrily. "You look just as I imagined you would."

She gasped. "But—why—how could you—"

"Don't you suppose I saw through your little game?" His smile was bright and assuming. Do you think any maiden aunt could write such letters as you have been writing to me?
I've had your image before me all the time, and I've learned to worship it.
I knew your eyes were full of laughter, that your hair was soft and fluffy, that your lips smiled with the tiniest dimples. I could just see the mischief lurking in the corner of your eye as you wrote those letters. Oh, how you've helped to cheer those long, tiresome months. How the thought of you has given me help and courage, for I knew you were a brave girl, doing your part at home."

They were sitting very close together in the cozy sitting-room. Nita's heart throbbed, and yet she tried to draw her hand away from him.

"Oh," she faltered, "what must you think of me?"

"I think you are the dearest girl in all the world," he told her, drawing her hands from her burning face. "I need mothering and advice and all that sort of thing now more than ever before. I've come to ask you to take the job for life—will you do it?"

He was gazing at her with earnest eyes, full of love.

She looked up at him, trembling, yet with mischief in her eyes as she answered, "Yes, if you think you can stand a maiden aunt's scolding." And he was quite satisfied.

When Romance Faded.

He got her name and address in a Red Cross package and that was all he knew about her. So he did the thing that a lovesick soldier usually does—wrote her a sweet little letter telling how he longed to correspond with some one. How did he know but that a real romance might start? This was her answer:
"I think this war is horrid. I am doing my share. I buy War Savings don't like. Also I am learning to knit."

But the cruel part is that she added:
"I am ten years old."

"Yes."

Largest Motor Vessel.

The British twin-screw Diesel engined vessel Glenapp, which had just been built by a Glasgow shipyard, is according to the local press the large-est and most powerful motor vessel in the world. It is of 10,000 tons dead-weight, and has two sets of engines, constructed by Messrs. Harland & Wolff at their Glasgow works. These give a total horse power of 6,600, which figures represent a very marked progress in this type of vessel.

Only American Flag.

There are flags made of red, white and blue stripes, but the American flag has not only the stripes made in certain proportions, and number, but the stars as well arranged upon a blue field in certain proportions in a certain order. No one should mistake such bunting for the American flag.

Artificial Pearls.

Essence d'Orient, from which artificial pearls are made, is produced from the brilliant scales of the ablet, or blay, a small fish with a green back and a white belly. About four thousand are required to produce a pound of scales, which gives a quarter of a pound of the essence.

Bracelets for Lunatics.

Bracelets have been worn from time immemorial, but few wearers of the golden bands of the present day know that they were once used to distinguish the insane. Before lunatics were confined to asylums they wore an arm-let for distinction.

Rare Visitors Recorded.

The appearance of snowy owls, a rare occurrence, is reported. These remarkably beautiful birds come from the Arctic regions. Only four previous visitations have been recorded in the ornithological history of the country.

Henry Moore is at home nursing a very sore hand. He says very good progress is being made on the oil well that is being sunk in McMullen county, and that the well, while only about a hundred feet deep, is showing a strong gas pressure. He says another company that will sink a well a few miles from the one he was working at has a 112-foot derrick up and is about ready to begin active operations. Mr. Moore had the misfortune to get his hand severely mashed and as he was threatened with blood-poisoning he came home for medical attention.

Edgar Haass is now in the service of Uncle Sam, at present stationed at Eagle Pass. For awhile he was employed in the truck repair shop, but is now on detached service and is employed as a mail and dispatch carrier to the different camps along the Rio Grande, with headquarters in Eagle Pass. Edgar is much pleased with his employment and of course will make good, as it is in the blood.

Rain in Hondo up to Thursday evening amounted to 1.41 inches, which practically insures one of the greatest corn crops ever raised in this county. As no more rain will be needed for the grain crops the farmers are hoping for several weeks of hot sunshine as that is necessary for the cotton crop which is not doing as well as it should on account of too much moisture. Then, too, boll weevils are reported rather bad in some sections of the county and it is thought a few weeks of hot sunshine would put a stop to their ravages.

Aug. Hornung's friends must bear with him for a few days. He knows how a rich man feels and just now he is trying to act the part. His Uncle Sam sent him a check for $540 Thursday, and accompanying this check was information to the effect that every quarter of the year in future a check for $60 will be forwarded to his address—all this being in payment of a pension that was granted him for service as a state ranger in early days. Bear with him and he will be his normal self in a short time. The first time his better half sends him to town to buy a week's supply of groceries for the household of two and he sees his "wad" fade into nothingness and still not have sufficient to keep hunger away he will again realize what it is to be poor and will again recognize his friends who are short of worldly goods. Just bear with him. He will come around all right.

Dr. O. B. Taylor, Mimke Wiemers Phillip Karrer and Alex Wendland, three more of Hondo's overseas soldier boys, reached home on Friday afternoon's train. Our soldier boys are returning home fast now and one of the happiest days our people ever experienced will be the one that finds the last of our boys at home.

TANLAC PLANT NOW COMPLETED.

Efficient New Laboratory Has Daily Capacity of 30,000 Bottles.

It is said to be one of the largest pharmaceutical laboratories in the United States has been completed at Tanlac, Ohio, for the manufacture of the well-known medicine, according to recent reports is having the largest sale of any line of it kind in the world. The erection of the new plant was necessary by the rapid growth of business, as the older plant was to be wholly inadequate to supply the ever-increasing demand which the present rate of sale will amount to more than five million bottles for the present year alone. The erection of this plant the manufacturers of Tanlac are giving to the world just one more evidence of remarkable growth and expansion of their business, and of their absolute confidence in its future. An announcement will be read of interest not only by the many agents of Tanlac scattered throughout every state of the Union, but also to the thousands who have used it beneficially. The new building occupies 60,000 feet of floor space. It is six stories in height, practically fire-proof throughout, and is of striking architectural design. It also has private rail facilities. A beautiful new structure now in striking contrast beside the building where Tanlac was first introduced to the laboratories are highly impressed with the extremely high character of the equipment. Everything is provided and splendidly arranged to promote systematic and efficient production. The very latest machinery and devices known to the pharmaceutical science are used. The interior throughout is finished in gleaming white, and all of the large number of employees wear white uniforms, which they are required to change daily. The main offices on the floor are all finished in Cararra marble and mahogany. The entire process of manufacture is conducted under absolutely sanitary conditions. Even the bottles made to contain Tanlac are washed and sterilized electrically by the violet ray process. They are filled by automatic machinery and the finished product is therefore untouched by human hands. When Tanlac was introduced into the history repeated itself, and the demand which had been created in the United States was quickly duplicated in the Dominion Provinces. As a result, it was recently found necessary to establish another Tanlac Laboratory at Windsor, Canada, which is on a somewhat smaller scale than the one at Dayton, but is no less modern-equipped. The new facilities give a daily capacity of 30,000 bottles, but as Tanlac is rapidly being introduced into foreign countries it is probably only a question of a few years before even more facilities will become necessary. While the manufacturers are necessarily working for capacity production, a fundamental rule of the Tanlac Laboratory is that the quality of the medicine shall never be sacrificed to the quantity output. Uniform quality is guaranteed by a series of careful inspections by expert chemists, from the time the roots, barks and herbs are received in their state from all parts of the globe. Their medicinal properties have been extracted by the most approved processes. The finished medicine is bottled, labelled, and shipped out in tens of thousands of druggists throughout the United States and Canada, to supply a demand never before equalled for this or any other medicine. The executive sales offices are located in Atlanta, Georgia, and occupy an entire floor of the Fourth National Bank Building of that city.

MADE BY SCOTT & BOWNE MAKERS OF SCOTT'S EMULSION

Birthday Party.
Miss Mary Isabel Crouch entertained a number of her friends at her home Saturday evening, the occasion being her 10th. birthday. The evening was spent in games and other merriment.
Miss Pauline Pogue of Uvalde played several selections on the piano which was very pleasing to the crowd. At seven o'clock lunch was served consisting of sandwiches, lemonade and cake. Much excitement occurred when the birthday cake was cut. Some were very much disappointed that they could not prove to be millionaires and some of the rest more provoked to be told they were to be old maids and old bachelors. But they are stopped and thought of their ages, then a smile came on their faces and declared they would live in hopes. One bright, light haired lad decided not to be in the boat with the rest so he just played "safty first". After lunch they were lined up and each presented with a surprise package and the favorite colors of the hostess pinned on each—the colors being very carefully selected were the red, white and blue.
They were then escorted to the picture show by Mrs. Crouch, Mrs. Judge Haass and Mrs. Roy Carter, where seats had been reserved for them by some patriots, as the seats were bound in with the American flag. After the show they all bade their hostess good-night and declared her the best of entertainers.
Those present were: Misses Ima Meyers, Lena Meyers, Thelma Lynch, Elvera Rothe, Irene Haass, Pauline Pogue of Uvalde, Herman Meyers, Otis Schuehle, John Henry Meyer, Howard Short, Newell Windrow, Joe Harvey Wilson, Harry Filleman. (Contributed.)

FOR AFTERNOON WEAR SHOULD MATCH CAMISOLE

An afternoon gown of brown chambray and georgette, beaded and tasseled trimmed.

SHOULD MATCH CAMISOLE

Newer Type of Blouse Affords Ugly Discrepancy Between Waist and Skirt Sections.

Is anything uglier than the transparent peplum blouse worn with a light camisole or corset cover? It was bad enough with the old-time blouse that ended at the belt line, but when the newer type of blouse is worn thus there is an ugly discrepancy between the waist section and the skirt section of the blouse. Of course, where the front and back panel of the blouse are of some heavier material the effect is quite satisfactory. But when georgette or chiffon is used then one really needs a dark camisole. It is not always easy to buy these, although they are to be had in navy blue, one or two shades of brown, green and the other usual suit shades. But they are not difficult to make, and you should have one or two to go with every suit. Soft satin of some sort is a good selection for the fabric, although crepe de chine is also good. They can be finished at the top with machine hemstitching, such as you can have done at a dressmakers' supply store, and the shoulder straps may either be made of ribbon to match or some of the fabric finished with a narrow hemstitching of the same sort. Needless to say, they should be adjusted so that none of the lighter lingerie appears above the dark camisole.

NO EXCUSE FOR UGLY HATS
Advance Headgear Models Show Variety From Which Most Fastidious Can Be Sued.
There should be no excuse for a woman selecting an ugly or unbecoming hat this season, judging from the variety of attractive advance models on view. The milliners seem to have taken thought for every feminine type. There are turbans high and low, flaring and narrow, tall-crowned, narrow brimmed hats, low-crowned, broad-brimmed hats, models turned up at the front, at the back or at the side, pokes and tricornes, and among them all any woman should be able to find the design that particularly suits her.
There is a pronounced use of fabrics such as tulle, georgette crepe and satin, and in matter of trimmings feathers have taken on amazing forms, while flowers are often conventional to the point of perversity. Fruits, particularly of the extremely natural variety, are among the trimmings which are looked upon with increasing favor, and the more conventional ornaments of ribbons, wings and ostrich tips are always in the background.
Foliage, wheat-ears in various colors, fringe, cords and tassels, embroidered jet, beaded ornaments, pins and buckles all play their part in the amazing variety of decoration which is used so sparingly on the individual hat.

WING AND BIRD TRIMMINGS
Decorations for Headgear Are Simple and Effective, Adding Attractiveness to Hats.
Among the trimmings of utmost simplicity undoubtedly most effect is gained by the daring sweep of wings or quills than can be achieved in any other manner. A high-crowned, narrow brown straw hat has small crisp wings snuggling close to the brim, but pointing out at either side. Long, slender wings sweep from the back of a satin and straw toque; two short, flaring wings with fan-shaped edges spring from one side of a small, round turban of coarse straw.
A black bird spreads its wings over a pinched-up bare of red milan, and a small, high-crowned gray straw is topped by little overlapping gray wings laid close on the sides of the crown and softened by burnt ostrich plumes.
Coats of velour de laine are embroidered in checker board patterns.

THE STATE OF TEXAS. To the Sheriff or any Constable of Medina County, Greeting:

You are Hereby Commanded to cause to be published once each week for a period of ten days before the return day hereof, in a newspaper of general circulation, which has been continuously and regularly published for a period of not less than one year in said Medina County, a copy of the following notice: THE STATE OF TEXAS. To all persons interested in the Estate of George Carle, Deceased, No. 918. Mrs. Nettie Carle has filed in the County Court of Medina County, an application for the Probate of the last Will and Testament of said George Carle, Deceased, filed with said application, and for Letters Testamentary of the Estate of said George Carle, Deceased, which will be heard at the next term of said Court, commencing on the 1st Monday in July, A. D. 1919, the same being the 7th day of July, A. D. 1919, at the Court House thereof, in Hondo, Texas, at which time all persons interested in said Estate may appear and contest said application, should they desire to do so. WINTER TRAVEL IN ALASKA

Archdeacon Stuck Tells of Some of the Sufferings to Be Encountered in the Frozen North.

Archdeacon Stuck, already famous for his ascent of Mount McKinley, made a remarkable journey into Alaska last winter.

His route extended around the whole arctic coast of Alaska, beginning at the west side, and thence inland to Fort Yukon. He was received everywhere with cordial hospitality by the Eskimos. Two weeks were spent at Point Barrow, where the traveler had an opportunity of studying the largest Eskimo village in Alaska under winter conditions. During the subsequent journey of 225 miles to Flaxman Island the party saw only one human being and were housed only twice.

The archdeacon describes it as "the barrenest, most desolate, most forsaken coast I have ever seen in my life; flat as this paper on which I write, the frozen land merging indistinguishably into the frozen sea; nothing but a stick of driftwood here and there, half buried in the inclement snow, gives evidence of the shore."

For two weeks the travelers had to face a bitterly cold northeast wind, and the faces of all were continuously frozen. The heaviest task of all was the journey over the winter's unbroken snow to Fort Yukon. On this inland trip Stefansson and his party were encountered and escorted to Fort Yukon, where Stefansson, who was seriously ill, received medical attention.

Teething babies always have a hard time of it when this process occurs in hot weather. They not only have to contend with painful gums but the stomach is disordered, bowels loose and the body uncomfortable. The best help you can give the little sufferer is McGEE'S BABY ELIXIR. It corrects your stomach, cools and quiets the bowels and helps digestion. Sold by W. H. Windrow.

Music's Value in Home.

Music is so general in its inspiring appeal to our better emotions that we cannot afford to neglect its cultivation in the home. Few mothers realize the importance of training and association in this direction. One ventures to say that many men and women have been impelled to right living and accomplishment of high ideals by the intangible strain of music that runs like a bright thread of sentiment through the stress of busy days. Mechanical piano players and other ingenious musical devices threaten less personal participation in a onetime pleasure.

If you have the itch, don't scratch. It does not cure the trouble and makes the skin bleed. Apply BALLARD'S NOW LINIMENT. Rub it in gently on the affected parts. It relieves itching instantly and a few applications removes the cause thus performing a permanent cure. Sold by W. H. Windrow.

Discovery of Rubber.

The rubber tree was discovered by a Jesuit missionary, Father Mancel de Esperanza. He found it while on one of his apostolic journeys among the Cambebas Indians of South America and gave it the singular name of the seringueira, because he remarked that the savages used the sap of this tree, which hardens quickly, to make rude bottles that were shaped like a syringe.

A regular morning operation of the ovals puts you in fine shape for the day's work. If you miss it you feel uncomfortable and cannot put vim in your movements. For all bowel irregularities HERBINE is the remedy. It purifies, strengthens and regulates. Sold by W. H. Windrow.

Daily Thought.

We often do more good by our sympathy than by our labors.—Canon Farrar.

SURGEONS agree that in cases of Cuts, Burns, Bruises and Wounds, the FIRST TREATMENT is most important. Results That Last Are What Appeal to Hondo People.

Kidney sufferers in Hondo want more than temporary relief. They want results that last—Results like Mr. Hay tells about. His was a thorough test. Four years is a long time. Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test and stood it well.

Why experiment with an untried medicine? People here in Hondo have shown the way.

Read the story of J. A. Hay, farmer. He says: "Some years ago when I was working on the street cars the constant standing which the work necessitated resulted in pains across my back and kidneys. I had always heard Doan's Kidney Pills highly spoken of so I decided to try them. Doan's did me a world of good, entirely removing the trouble." (Statement given May 29, 1915).

On May 13, 1919 Mr. Hay added: "I think just as much of Doan's Kidney Pills today as ever. I haven't had occasion to use them since they cured me in 1915."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Hay had. Foster Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

AIRPLANES IN GREAT WAR

Fokkers Must Be Credited With Remarkable Work That Contributed to Victory of Civilization.

The Fokker series is interesting. First, there was the monoplane Fokker, so long a menace at the front. Then they tried the little triplane Fokker, a weird-looking machine, whose specialty was climbing high and diving down on the foe. Unfortunately in the dive the top plane had a way of coming off. It was in a Fokker triplane that the "Red Devil" Baron von Richthofen came to grief, and you can see the engine of his machine, a 110 La Rhone, copied from a French rotary engine.

The last type of Fokker—and a very good one—is the D7 biplane, all metal except for the wings, with a high-power engine and a tremendous climber. The specimen on show belonged to Richthofen's circus. You can follow the attempts of the Germans to win security by armoring their machines, but armoring did not pay, owing to the weight and clumsiness.

Late in 1918 an extraordinary machine was brought down, made entirely of metal, with wings of some kind of aluminum alloy, and a brass seat for the pilot—the whole thing a marvel of bold inventiveness.

Children that are affected by worms are pale and sickly and liable to contract some fatal disease. WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE expels worms promptly and puts the child on the road to health. Sold by W. H. Windrow.

How Fast Shot Travels.

When standing within a few yards of a gun's muzzle at the time of discharge, a person would be amazingly astonished were he only able to see the shot go whizzing by. Experiments in instantaneous photography prove that the shot not only spread out, cometlike, as they fly, but they string out, one behind another at a much greater distance than they spread.

Thus, with a cylinder gun, when the shot of a charge reaches a target that is 40 yards away, the last shot is lagging full ten yards behind. Even a chokebore gun shot will lag behind eight yards in 40. This accounts for the wide swath that is mowed in a flock of ducks on which a charge of shot falls just right. About 5 per cent only of the shot, according to the most reliable deductions from experiments, arrive simultaneously at the target aimed at, the others lagging in the ratio named above.

Enough Said.

Brother and sister were parted for the first time, he going on a month's trip with their mother and father and she to spend the month with their grandparents. The leave taking was rather strained, as neither one of them quite knew what to say. Finally little brother walked up and putting his arms around his sister said: "Mardret, I'm your brother an' you're my sister."

Valuable Tree.

A wonderful tree, known as the shea, is beginning to attract commercial attention in western Africa. It supplies the native not only with nuts, which they highly prize, but with a butter that may become an article of commercial importance. It is already exported to Europe, where makers of artificial butter find use for it.

Chronic Constipation.

Perhaps you have never thought of it, but this disorder is due to a lack of moisture in the residual matter of the food. If you will drink an abundance of water, eat raw fruits and take lots of outdoor exercise, you may be able eventually to overcome it entirely. In the meantime use the most mild and gentle laxatives. Strong and harsh cathartics take too much water out of the system and make a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are easy and pleasant to take, and most agreeable in effect. Give them a trial.

The Doctor Away From Home When Most Needed.

People are often very much disappointed to find that their family physician is away from home when they most need his services. Diseases like pain in the stomach and bowels, colic and diarrhoea require prompt treatment, and have in many instances proven fatal before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. The right way is to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. No physician can prescribe a better medicine for these diseases. By having it in the house you escape much pain and suffering and all risk. Buy it now; it may save life.

A WORD ABOUT THE KIDNEYS

BY DOCTOR WATSON.

People are easily frightened when they think something is the matter with their lungs or heart, and well they may be; but few people understand the dangers of diseased kidneys. These organs have a duty of vital importance to perform, and if they are diseased, there is no telling how or where the symptoms may appear. The kidneys are filters, and when they are healthy they remove the poisons from the blood and purify it. When the kidneys are diseased, the poisons are spread everywhere, and one of these poisons is uric acid. The uric acid is carried all through the system and deposited in various places, in the form of urate salts—in the feet, ankles, wrists and back—often forming bags under the eyes. Sometimes the resulting trouble is called rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica and backache. Finally, come stone in the bladder, diabetes and Bright's disease.

Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., in recent years, discovered that a certain combination of remedies would dissolve uric acid (urate salts) in the system. He found this combination to be harmless, so that he made it up in tablets, of double strength, and called them Anuric Tablets. They dissolve uric acid in the human system as hot coffee dissolves sugar. If you have uric acid troubles, don't delay in taking Anuric Tablets, which can be secured in the drug stores. You can write Dr. Pierce, too, and he will tell you what to eat and how to live so that more uric acid will not form in your system. Dr. Pierce will not charge for this advice.

LaCoste Ledger Laconics.

Seven cars of oats were shipped out of Lacoste last Saturday which goes to prove that Lacoste people and those up the Valley are doing something.

Reverends A. Heckman of Castroville, P. Maas of D'Hanis and John Heinzlmeir of Lacoste made a business trip to San Antonio the early part of the past week.

R. Gross and son, Henry, and daughter, Miss Annie, returned Sunday after a week's stay with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gross near D'Hanis. During their stay there they helped ship 7 carloads of steers to the market at Ft. Worth, Texas.

Uvalde Leader News Items.

Miss Dorothy Harris, after a several weeks visit with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Harris, left last week to resume her duties with the Western Union Telegraph Company at Dallas. Another pretty little daughter arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Klein, Wednesday.—Batesville News.

To Prevent Belching.

Make a regular habit of eating slowly, masticate your food thoroughly, and you may have no further trouble. If you should, take one of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper.

War Saving Stamps Drive.

Office of W. N. Saathoff, Chairman of the Savings Division of the Treasurer Department for Medina County, Hondo, Texas, June 13, 1919.

On Armistice Day, Nov. 11th, 1918, the American people proclaimed with one accord "The War Is Over". But in spite of rejoicing the war is not yet over for these guarding the banks of the Rhine, tramping thru the fields of Flanders, lying in the hospitals of France. Our Government will continue to operate on a war basis until the Nations Defenders have laid aside the khaki, and the War Bills have been paid. This war will not be over until the Government ceases to call upon us for aid in completing the tremendous task to which the Nation was dedicated on April 6th 1917. Our Government is expending $2,000,000,000.00 a month to meet its commitments. Its Honor is pledged. It's our Government, hence our Honor is pledged.

When urged to lend financial aid to our Government in the hour of need Millions of citizens discovered that in the process of saving to help their country they greatly helped themselves. Americans have done great things, but they have never learned to save. Theodore Roosevelt said, "If you would be sure you are beginning right BEGIN TO SAVE." An educational campaign to make the United States a nation of permanently thrifty people is to be coupled in 1919 with the sale of WAR SAVING STAMPS.

The School Trustees of the various Districts are appointed by virtue of the authority vested in me by the U. S. Treasurer Department as Savings Board for their respective district.

Thrift Message Week is from June 29th to July 6th inclusive. Medina County has never failed in any demand made by the Government, hence let's do our duty and put the THRIFT IDEA over. Teach the people to buy stamps because it is a means to be employed in providing a fund which may be used to make substantial improvements on the home, used for going to college, or to sustain them when loss of employment or crop failure, or sickness, or misfortune shall come.

Respectfully yours,
W. N. SAATHOFF,
Gov. County Chairman, War Savings Division, Hondo, Texas.

WHAT ABOUT THE CHILDREN?

Are the people of Texas going to continue allowing their children to fall heir to all sorts of constitutional defects, merely because of the lack of knowledge of the means of preventing the acquirement and spread of communicable disease? The State Tuberculosis Sanatorium, Carlsbad, has prepared an excellent little pamphlet, gotten up attractively in colors, entitled "Communicable Diseases Among School Children." The propaganda department of the institution hopes to get a copy of this pamphlet into the hands of every primary grade teacher, during the fall term of 1919. The pamphlet is intended for parents as well.

Among other things, it is hoped that this pamphlet will help establish the falsity of the old notion that children should be exposed to such dangerous diseases as Mumps, Measles and Whooping Cough "To get it over with." Measles and whooping cough both are apt to leave certain organs of the body—the heart, kidneys, lungs—in impaired condition, so that other disease finds a ready lodgement. Oftentimes the eyes are affected. Because a child can be very sick, yet complain little, it is thought that these diseases "go harder" with the grown person. The grown person can better afford to take the chance of after disease than can the child, because the former's immunity to many diseases is established, whereas that of the child is not.

Prevention is better than cure.

gh splendid weddings had lain he shelves for a century, so bright-ly happily has the public taken up revival. All that was once con-sidered boredom is now considered a sion for bubbling merriment. It ood for a nation to be compelled orego all its luxuries, so that they e better enjoyed when brought into life.

ie dressmakers are eager to abet form of splendor in apparel, and its, and even interior decorators, have been called in for consultation to provide new and agreeable features for the wedding service.

The old fashion of dancing, which for many generations ruled the customs in America, where it was carried from Europe, is again on the cards. The bride remains for the festivities, instead of creeping away after innumerable hand-shakings. She opens the dance with the groom, and at a recent wedding, in which all the costumes were copied from the eighteenth century, the entire bridal party danced the minuet before the guests as a bit of pageantry. The bridesmaids wore the gowns that once flitted through Versailles—gowns which now look down from canvas upon the peace commissioners. The bride wore a frock of brocade fashioned after the same style, and her lace veil, mounted on net, was held low on the forehead by a chain of diamonds.

Medievalism and Modern Weddings. There is also a drop to centuries that make the eighteenth seem modern. Medievalism, with its splendor, barbaric as it seems to us now, suggests the pageantry for weddings and balls. It was then that royalty spent the millions given in taxes by the poor for such weddings as that of Catherine de Medici to the young king of France.

The entire trend of fashion having gone toward medievalism since the end of the war, it is not difficult to arrange these wedding pageants in keeping with modern costumes. The lattice work of metal threads and seed pearls, which distinguished that era in history, was revived several months ago, not only for evening gowns, but for those afternoon gowns intended for something more formal than tea at a restaurant.

One apparel scheme for a bridal group includes a wedding gown of satin embroidered in pearls without price and silk and silver threads. The lattice work is carried up to the knees, downward from the hips, and covers the train, which is lined with cloth of silver. The slim, high-necked bodice has an outstanding medieval collar of lace sewn with silver threads, and the long tight sleeves of lace have a lattice work of pearls from shoulder to elbow.

The bridesmaids' gowns are of pale rose velvet, an exquisite soft weave of this fabric, which clings to the body like chiffon. The frocks are made with straight panels back and front, over a sheath slip; the panels are embroidered with a lattice work of silver, and there are small ornaments of seed pearls placed at intervals.

A Wedding of the Directoire. The first empire and the directoire, which preceded it, are again handing down inspiration to the French dress-maker, and each month sees a strong grouping together of the accessories of fashion during that time. So weddings also reflect this age. The clothes for a pageant of this kind are a bit mixed in the political eras they suggest, but who cares?

The bride wears the full regalia of Josephine, empress of the French, with heelless slippers, white silk stockings, and white satin gown with the velvet court train, lined with silver and caught at the shoulder with silver ornaments. The coiffure is copied from the one that Josephine made famous, with its ringlets at the top and at the temples. The bridesmaids are appar- elled in p... costumes—in

THE CAPTAIN

By MARGARET L. AHERN.

(Copyright, 1919, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Captain Wright carefully read the two invitations before him. One, on heavy white linen paper, with a gold monogram, requested the pleasure of his company at dinner the following Sunday evening. The captain laid the note on his desk and gazed out of the barracks window with a slightly contemptuous smile which might have been interpreted in plain English as follows:

"Aunt Alicia and Uncle Dan are all right, but they'd give me a 'steens-course dinner of fancy stuff that wouldn't satisfy their strenuous nephew. And then there'd be Mildred Gorham Brooks for my dinner partner—with Mrs. Brooks and Aunt Alicia beaming on us when they thought we weren't looking. And after dinner I'd have to listen to Mildred's slithering chatter for two hours—or maybe she'd sing. I'd rather stay in camp over the week-end."

The other invitation was a simply-worded note asking that "some lonesome boy, who is far away from home" come to dinner with Mrs. Jones on Sunday at one o'clock. The letter went on to explain that Mrs. Jones' son, William, was a corporal in the captain's company, but that all of his immediate friends in the company were from nearby homes. As the captain laid that note aside there was a twinkle in his eye that meant:

"Being twenty-eight, I may not qualify as a boy, but I'm lonesome. And judging from the boxes that Corporal Jones gets so often the pies 'that mother used to make' can be found in his home."

So it happened that the next Sunday Corp. William Jones received a great surprise. He had been sitting at the parlor window, comfortably ensconced in a Morris chair, with his feet on another chair, and smoking, while he read the Sunday paper. Such privileges and ease were not allowed him in pre-war times, and William was making the most of the respect his family accorded his uniform. From the kitchen appetizing odors drifted in to complete his satisfaction. Occasionally he glanced out of the window to look for the expected guest. "Hope he's a decent sort of a fellow," he muttered to himself.

Then his peace of mind was rudely disturbed. A gray touring car drew up at his door, with Captain Bright driving it. Before Bill's startled gaze his superior officer methodically shut off the engine and locked the car, and then, climbing out, covered the radiator with a heavy robe. Bill jumped up, littering the floor with the papers, and began to fumble in his pockets.

"Goodness, where's my pass?" he spluttered. "And what on earth have I done now?"

He was still searching for his pass when the captain was ushered in by Mrs. Jones. She was a stout, motherly woman, and two silver bars on a khaki shoulder meant nothing to her until she saw her William standing stiffly at attention. Captain Wright snapped a salute in return, and then laughingly shook hands with the discomfited corporal.

"No more ceremony today, Jones." His frank smile put Bill at ease. "I'm just a lonesome fellow with no place to go. And a mighty hungry one at that."

He sniffed appreciatively. "I don't often have home-made apple pie." Mrs. Jones beamed at this remark and the wily captain went on to further win her heart by telling her how lonely it was up in that big camp, with no folks to visit one and send delicacies such as the fortunate Bill received.

Meanwhile, Bill, from whom all awe had departed at the signs of human nature displayed by his erstwhile commanding officer, had retired to the kitchen and brought his unsuspecting sister, Peggy, out to be introduced to their guest. As the captain told her long afterwards, "in a ruffly apron, covered with pink rosebuds, she looked like an angel ready to serve ambrosia."

Needless to say, the dinner party was a great success, particularly the apple pie. After dinner the captain voluntarily assigned himself to K. P. duty, and became initiated into the mysteries of dish wiping. It is doubtful if he would have been interested in manipulating a dish towel if Peggy had not been his partner in the K. P. work.

Afterward, he insisted on taking them all for a long ride into the country. Peggy, of course, sat in the front seat with the driver, while Mrs. Jones, Bill and Bill's girl, were in back.

The captain's invitation had been for dinner only, but it was after ten o'clock that night when he and Bill returned to camp. A sleepy orderly stared in open-mouthed amazement as his captain and Corporal Jones conversed in familiar tones about "driving home together next Sunday," and then shook hands cordially at parting.

Tomorrow.

It is said that tomorrow never comes, being invariably separated from today by anything from a full 24 hours down to a fraction of a second, and then in a wink suddenly springing upon us, but at the same time changing into today. Here is an interesting thing about tomorrow: "Yesterday today was tomorrow; and tomorrow today will be yesterday." This will be understood more readily by placing a comma after the first yesterday and one after the second tomorrow.

PLENTY TO DO AND EVERYBODY DOING IT

Every man for himself and devil take the loneliest, is, apparently, the philosophy of Uncle Sam's soldiers in the great military camps where they are undergoing intensive training for the real thing "over there." A typical scene in an army Y. M. C. A. building an hour or two before the formal entertainment begins. On the stage one of the boys in khaki is leading an informal "sing song." About two score of the fellows are up there with him, and it must be a pretty good song, for it can be seen that about half the crowd in the building is taking music. But this doesn't disturb the nine or ten checker games, seen in the foreground, in the least, nor does the goat of the scores of fellows who are grabbing a few minutes in which to write to the folks at home. The extreme right front of the picture has received a newspaper from "the little old town back there," while the fellow standing in the very center of the picture plainly admits himself to be either on a "point" or on a "post" nobody's business which. The Y. M. C. A. huts are the soldiers' clubs, churches, homes and whatever else they make them. The principal cantonments of the country contain from ten to twenty large "Y" buildings, nothing of the huts overseas and outposts on the Mexican border.

DO YOU BELIEVE IN JUSTICE?

Were you, dear reader, ever on a train or in a hotel, and did you happen to notice some passenger or guest take a little pasteboard box out of his pocket and carefully spit into it? Were you one of those who became frightened and carefully avoided this person, possibly going to the conductor or hotel proprietor and making a vigorous protest against that person being allowed around? We hope not but if you did not do this you may rest assured that someone else did.

The person who used that sputum cup possibly was a consumptive, but he was being brave enough, sane enough and man enough to do what he knew would protect others from infection from his sputum. Possibly he was not a consumptive but an ordinary citizen with some regard for the rights of others, but we doubt it.

At the very time this (possible) consumptive was taking such care to dispose of his sputum without endangering others, a hundred other people in his vicinity were spitting promiscuously, and incurring no blame. Yet they were spreading the germs of disease—pneumonia, catarrh, influenza, consumption—thick and fast. THINK IT OVER.
